

Patricia Rogers

Vice President and Senior Relationships Banker
California Bank & Trust

Patricia Rogers is a Vice President and Senior Relationship Banker for California Bank & Trust. With over 20 years of financial services experience, she specializes in the management of banking relationships for family owned business, midsize business and their principals.

Prior to joining California Bank & Trust, Ms. Rogers spent 14 years as a Senior Private Banker with City National Bank. In this capacity she spearheaded business development efforts with strategic commercial bank branches working closely with branch and relationship managers to create an ongoing process for identifying new client opportunities.